

Contents

List of figures	vi
Preface and Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
1 The region of Thonis-Heracleion	5
The archaeological site	5
The harbour of Thonis-Heracleion	7
2 The temple at the Canopic Gate	9
The location of site M8 at the Canopic Gate of the Nile	9
The Egyptian names of the Canopic Gate	9
Topography of the Canopic entry in Saïte times	16
3 The Gates and their defences	23
The guardian gods at the entrances of the country	23
The entrances of the temples	29
The entrance of the Canopic Gate	30
4 Two bronze plaques bearing the names of Saïte kings	31
A bronze plaque with the name of Psamtik I	31
A bronze plaque with the name of Amasis	33
The Khonsu-Thoth of Thonis-Heracleion and the place-name of the temple	36
The functions of the double god Khonsu-Thoth	38
Khonsu-Thoth and royal legitimisation	40
Khonsu-Thoth and the defence of the Gates	42
5 A visit by Amun	45
The front	47
The right face	49
The left face	54
The rear face	54
Possible interpretations of the procession of the gods	58
The Oracles	61
Possible interpretations of the scenes on the four sides of the top	62
6 Neith and Athena	65
Neith in the northwestern Delta	65
Neith, the archetype of the universal mother	66
Neith in the Sanctuary of Khonsu-Thoth	69
The Book of the Bow of Neith	73
Athena in Thonis-Heracleion	75
Conclusion	76

Contents

7	Gold artefacts	77
	The gold nail	77
	The small scarab bead	78
	The double ring	79
	Conclusion	83
	Conclusion	85
	Bibliography	89
	Index I: Geographical names: cities and cult places	103
	Index II: Kings and their epithets	107
	Index III: Gods, goddesses and their epithets	109
	Index IV: Greek divinities	115